Smallpox at Naples.

During the week ended February 22, 1902, there were officially reported at Naples 9 cases of smallpox with no deaths.

Emigration from Italy.

The period of the greatest annual emigration from Italy to the United States has begun. An idea of the efforts made to reach America by persons refused transportation by the steamship companies here on advice of the medical inspector may be had from the fact that on the search of the steamship New England, of the Dominion Line, leaving for New York February 19, 1902, 13 stowaways were found, 12 suffering from trachoma and 1 from hernia.

Respectfully,

J. M. EAGER,

Passed Assistant Surgeon, U. S. M. H. S.

The SURGEON-GENERAL,

U. S. Marine-Hospital Service.

JAPAN.

Report from Yokohama.

YOKOHAMA, JAPAN, February 10, 1902.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith an abstract of the bills of health issued at this port during the week ended February 8, 1902.

There were inspected 2 ships, with 147 crew, 11 cabin and 247 steerage passengers. Two hundred and twenty-five steerage passengers were bathed and their baggage disinfected.

There have been no deaths from contagious diseases reported.

Respectfully,

J. SPENCER HOUGH,

Acting Assistant Surgeon, U. S. M. H. S.

The SURGEON-GENERAL, U. S. Marine-Hospital Service.

MEXICO.

Report from Vera Cruz—One death from yellow fever.

VERA CRUZ, MEXICO, February 23, 1902.

SIR: I have the honor to make the following report for the week ended February 22, 1902: From all causes there were 42 deaths—8 from tuberculosis, 1 from yellow fever, and 8 from malarial fevers. One case of yellow fever was reported during the period and resulted in the death above reported. There has been no sickness in the shipping, and nothing of interest or importance in the city to report.

Respectfully,

S. H. HODGSON,

Acting Assistant Surgeon, U. S. M. H. S.

The SURGEON-GENERAL, U. S. Marine-Hospital Service.

NEW BRUNSWICK.
